Title: Theory based interventions for caries related sugar intake in adults: Systematic review

Version: 0 Date: 14 Apr 2017

Reviewer: Giuseppe Sartori

Reviewer’s report:

The paper is methodologically sound.

I am not sure that BMC PSYCHOLOGY is an appropriate outlet for a research which addresses the interventions for caries related sugar intake. I understand that the meta-analyzed interventions are psychological, however the main aim of the meta-analysis clearly is not.
