Title:A Swiss real world best practice experience in three different clinical settings of the 6 hour fingolimod first dose observation procedure

Version:4 Date:3 November 2014

Reviewer:Yara D Fragoso

Reviewer's report:

This is a relevant, interesting and well-conducted study that shows the real life experience with the first dose of fingolimod. I strongly recommend the authors to cite two previous studies on the same subject, as below. The authors can compare their results with those from other authors, which would enrich their conclusions.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable
