The manuscript intitled "Dipeptidyl Peptidase 4 (DPP-4) Inhibitors and Cardiovascular Outcomes in patients with type 2 diabetes mellitus: A systematic review and meta-analysis involving 157,478 participants" brings new concepts and also new problems to solve.

The abbreviations must follow the sentence for the first time. Please, identify in the title or in the abstract at the first time the meaning of T2DM.

I understand the novelty of the study, but of 245 papers eligible for the study, only 7 were selected do not express a very low number of papers to complete something with such certainty?

I'm concerned about the conclusion. I believe that waving a possibility is better than creating a certainty.
Are the methods appropriate and well described?
If not, please specify what is required in your comments to the authors.

Yes
