This is a careful case report on adverse reaction during treatment by timolol.

Minor points:

1. I am missing use of a causality assessment method such as Naranjo.

2. Please add what kind of treatment the patient received after discontinuation of the suspected drug.

3. I think causality grading will be possible rather than probable in face of lacking previous ECG data.

4. Was the drug company and regulatory authorities informed? Please add some few words.
