Reviewer's report:

Thank you for this submission. I think it is an interesting survey but I have made extensive edits on the narrative and presentation of the results to improve the clarity of the narrative. I would also like to see more analysis on the statistical correlation between the factors identified and nutritional status as it is only observational now. This needs to be carried through to the conclusions to have concrete conclusions on the findings of the survey and to link back with the original hypothesis of high consumption of millet linked with poor nutritional status.
