Reviewer's report:

There are several grammatical and punctuation errors that need to be revisited. Other comments are embedded in attached document.

Major comments:

-In regression table; authors tried to compute factor analyses for stunting in each year separately. Thus, what is the significant to deal the outdated year 2006 for evidence based medicine? which factors analysis is more sound-able for policy maker or decision maker(2006, 2011,2016). I need a strong plausible justification

- In discussion section. In general, the way to explain your finding is poor quality. It lacks comparison studies and plausible evidence of your justifications.

-Put your study limitation at the end of discussion.

-you have to attach the cross-tab 2X2 for each year as a supplement file for further clarification unless reader may be confuse a such way of presentation(as a supplementary files).
