Title: Socio-demographic and Facility-Based Determinants of Perceived Quality of Nutrition Services of Pregnant and Lactating Adolescent Girls in Trans-Mara East Sub-County, Narok County, Kenya

Version: 2 Date: 26 May 2019

Reviewer: KP Manji

Reviewer's report:

The paper is well revised and many issues responded to.

My comment was on consent process.

That 40% of pregnancies happened between 14-19, and the age of consent in Kenya is 18 years. You mentioned that those underage had their parents provide consent. This is an issue because she may not actually come with her mother or adult, and may come to clinic with her partner instead.

Second, the recommendation of providing farms to the youth sound nice, but I think it is far-fetched and too ideal.
