Title: Enabling Aboriginal dental assistants to apply fluoride varnish for school-children in communities with a high Aboriginal population in New South Wales, Australia: A study protocol for a feasibility study

Version: 0 Date: 22 Sep 2018

Reviewer: Kaye Roberts-Thomson

Reviewer's report:

This is a worthwhile project. The methodology is appropriate. My only concern is whether there are provisions for dental treatment for the participating children where it is needed at any time during the study.
