Title: The Feasibility and Acceptability of a Primary School-Based Programme Targeting Diet and Physical Activity: The PhunkyFoods Programme

Version: 2 Date: 23 Sep 2019

Reviewer: Jinhui Ma

Reviewer's report:

The comments from previous reviewers were nicely addressed. I have some additional comments below:

In abstract:

1. More numerical results are expected in the results section. For example, you stated "Compliance and acceptability of the proposed outcome tools was good". This is more like a conclusion than a result. What are the compliance rate (such as 90% for example) and acceptability rate to support your statement?

2. Move "92% of eligible children..." (this is a numerical result rather than a conclusion) to the results section.

Line 266: change "inter class correlations" to "intra-cluster correlations".

In the statistical analysis section, you mentioned that "inter class correlations" and 95% confidence intervals were reported, but I could not find them in the results section.

In the analysis of student-level outcomes, for example the BMI SD score, how the intra-cluster correlation was taken into account
