Title: Patient Involvement in Clinical Trials: Motivation and Expectations Differ between Patients and Researchers Involved in a Trial on Urinary Tract Infections

Version: 0 Date: 24 Nov 2018

Reviewer: Kerstin Morrison

Reviewer's report:

It is a very good article on PPI and one can tell that patients were involved in the process. Particularly commendable is the involvement of patient co-authors. There is already a lot of similar research available in the UK, and the paper reflects all the common issues with PPI especially from the patients’ point of view.
