Title: Facilitating Non-tokenistic User involvement in Research. An Ethnographic Analysis from a Rehabilitation Research Project.

Version: 1 Date: 15 Feb 2019

Reviewer: Alison Faulkner

Reviewer's report:

I find this article very interesting. You demonstrate a good understanding in particular of the power imbalances and ways of engaging with them. It is a useful paper with many points to learn from.

I am not entirely clear about the precise methods; in particular, the use of autoethnography is not clear to me. It reads well without the use of that term - as a straightforward qualitative paper. You need to include more detail about the methods used to move from the considerable amount of data described to the themes you arrive at.
