Version: 0 Date: 06 Apr 2020

Reviewer's report:

Thank you for submitting this letter. I can feel your enthusiasm for the area and I am very glad you have discovered PPI.

A few reflections. Just checking your supervisors are aware of the submission and of being named? Knowing their work I suspect their knowledge and enthusiasm helped you form your thoughts. I wondered if you can add any more thoughts about how medical schools might adopt a more structured approach to introducing PPI to medical students. Perhaps reflect on whether this might be needed and what might it look like. What might you say to a medical student to ignite their interest in the field?
