Reviewer’s report

Reviewer's report:

This is an interesting article which contributes to an important area in both research methods and service design for mental health and young people. I had the following comments:

Limitations - you omitted to mention the geographic limitation here, in that all the schools / colleges selected were in London. Access to services and attitudes to mental health may differ by geographic area. This might be something to explore in future.

The findings (and especially the quotes from young people) are very interesting. It would have been good to see the workshop outcomes turned into lists of desirable / undesirable features of e-health platforms for mental health in young people.

It would also have been helpful to explore further what acceptable use of data and in what ways would be acceptable to young people.
