Version: 0 Date: 12 Nov 2019

Reviewer’s report:

The manuscript is well written and described issues with the potential to inform interventions with substantial health impact. Listed below are two minor comments I suggest to be address before publication-I find the use of present tense throughout the manuscript problematic. Change present tense to past tense.-Methods: It would have been good to describe how the data was analysed by clearly stating the methods and tools used.
