Title: Public involvement in health research: what does ‘good’ look like in practice?

Version: 0 Date: 29 Sep 2019

Reviewer's report:

Thank you very much for the article and work you do.

I did not quite understand from the text, when was the research done - and if it was a continuous work or a structured analysis of the work you had done. Did you decide to do first literature review of principles after three groups met in 2015 (p.4) or did it before? It should be mentioned in Abstract and Summary, too. Was it done by academics or also public partners were involved?

On page 2, line 12 - the first "and" is not necessary.

On page 14, line 17-18 - there should be comma, not brackets, after source number 31, and no bracket before source 32.

Table 3 - would look nicer if all columns would be organized similarly, with bullet points or numbers. This refers to middle column.
