Reviewer’s report

Title: Concern noted: A descriptive study of editorial expressions of concern in PubMed and PubMed Central.

Version: 0 Date: 06 Apr 2017

Reviewer: Daniele Fanelli

Reviewer's report:

This paper offers a well-written and clear report about descriptive data on the prevalence and nature of editorial expressions of concern, a type of publication that is as controversial as it is poorly studied. Findings and limitations are adequately discussed in relation to the relevant literature, and the manuscript is concise and informative to an extent that is fully appropriate for the preliminary nature of the data presented.
