Title: Researchers’ perceptions of research misbehaviours: A mixed methods study among academic researchers in Amsterdam

Version: 0 Date: 08 May 2019

Reviewer: David Resnik

Reviewer's report:

This is a well-designed study that compares perceptions of the importance of research misbehaviors in different fields. The results are interesting and shed some light interdisciplinary differences in research integrity.

The paper could use some editing for English grammar and usage. For example, the first sentence of the papers says:

"Most researchers believe to possess a considerable degree of integrity, honesty and objectivity."

I think what the authors meant to say is "Most researchers are believed to possess..."
