Reviewer’s report:

Thank you for your thoughtful response to our comments. In particular, the restructuring of the results section helps to strengthen the manuscript. One note re study design. I appreciate the use of the Standards for Qualitative Research checklist. However, semi-structured interviews are data collection methods and not a research design. Suggest removing this description from the manuscript. I encourage authors to use a distinct qualitative design in future work, such as qualitative descriptive, or Interpretive Description. This will help to strengthen the trustworthiness of the findings.
